

Igor P. Smirnov. Soviet and German philosopher and philologist, world-renowned scientist, one of the most famous European culturologists.

Member of the Institute of Russian Literature (Pushkin House), Russian Academy of Sciences, Professor at the University of Konstanz (Germany). Professor at the UNESCO Chair, organizer of numerous international projects and seminars, including “Western Slavists at Herzen University”, “Meaning and significance as philosophical categories”, “Literature and philosophy”. Author of more than 300 scientific publications, including 22 monographs, a number of which have been translated into foreign languages. Research interests: philosophical history and anthropology, sociophilosophy, cultural studies, theory of literature, history of Russian literature, film studies. Member of editorial boards in humanitarian journals published in Russia, Germany, Serbia and South Korea.

E-mail: ipsmirnov@yahoo.com