

Maria P. Voyushina. Ph.D, Professor. Head of the Department of Children's Literature (1999-2011), Deputy Director of the Research Institute of General Education of the University (2011-2012). Author of numerous works on the methodology of teaching literature, including monographs, university textbooks, textbooks for elementary school. Author of the teacher's courses on a wide range of problems of primary education and literary development of schoolchildren. Developer and head of the master's program "Communicative technologies in education" in the direction of "04/04/01 Teacher Education." Scientific coordinator of the project "Creating an innovative educational system" Dialogue ". Leads webinars. " Research interests: education in a multicultural society, methods of primary education, methods of teaching literature at school and in high school, a school textbook, the formation of the student's cultural field, the relationship of classroom and extracurricular educational activities, diagnosis of educational results.

E-mail: marivoushina@mail.ru